Today was a beautiful celebration of our brother Jonathan Johnson. What a celebration for a life well lived before God! He would have been joyous over the worship that went forth and stories that were told today. We love Jon and the entire Johnson family. He was a unique individual- the kind of guy to crack an "Andy" joke at his grandma's celebration of life and movingly sing, "And he walks with me, and he talks with me, and he tells me I am his own...", bringing us to tears in The Hat Chronicles. Again, what a wonderful service for a wonderful person. We love you family. We are praying for your comfort and peace.

I loved you from the day God Ma told me that you were in her belly. I have no words that describe the incredible joy you brought to me. You made me a big sister. I'm extremely happy that you were here. I am a better person because I got to watch you live your dreams. You were all that you could be, even though your body didn't always strong enough for you to use it fully like you wanted to. I'm grateful for you. I love you. I'm happy you're completely healed now. No pain, no tired body holding you down, no tears from the battles in your mind. I'm grateful that you're all better. There are no more barriers in the new body. I bet you've had that mic in your hands now praising for the last eight days straight and you're just getting started. I miss you Jon Jon. I remember the first time you told me to stop calling you that. 😊 😊 😊 My favorite Shorty. I love you. I'll see you again on the other side. Save a spot on the stage and I'll gladly sing and praise next to you for eternity. Love you beyond word, space, and time. You're sister... Renae

To my Uncle Arthur and Aunt VAI: I am sorry for the loss of your precious son Jonathan. This moment in time is going to be hard, but also a time of laughter and praise. He is no longer in a body that put up a fight, he is now a free spirit in heaven singing and praising to be with the glorious righteous on high. He was loved by many and missed by all. Stay strong! Love your Niece Zett.

Jonathan was an amazing young man, full of life, a hunger for God and spiritual things. He lived to accomplish what was intended...I will always remember our "deep" conversations and silly times of just laughing over the frivolous...I will always remember his grandmother Gussie encouraging him to stand in front of the congregation and perform recitations that were moving and stirring for a kid his age! He was born for the arts, stage and screen. It was a joy to later see him develop into an awesome author and play write. I will miss him calling, saying in his Barry White voice (As Apostle Rita Johnson so aptly called it) "Hey my sistah, what's up?" I knew it was a serious call when he said "Hey Elder Cynthia..." I cherish the memories of you as a true minstrel leading others into the presence of God where you now serve. I am so going to miss you my brother you will forever be in my heart, til we meet again on the other side...

 What a blessing. My life was enriched greatly by Jonathan. Our very first conversation by phone lasted over 3hrs. He was a part of the cast in one of my plays. First time meeting him felt like we had known one another for years. But he had a way of making people feel that way. The characters in our heads would show up in our conversations. We had such fun. He is truly missed.
